FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

MARRIAGE RESOURCE CENTER CELEBRATES NATIONAL MARRIAGE WEEK ALL YEAR LONG
Local Non-Profit Enriching Marriages in Tough Times

Dearborn, MI – January 20, 2010- Break out the bubbly! It's time to celebrate National Marriage Week with the Marriage Resource Center (MRC). The official event commences on February 7th and continues until Valentines' Day. This is a week that was created to help encourage strong marriages throughout all communities. It offers a time to reflect on the positives associated with great marriages such as a reduction in domestic violence and increased wealth and happiness.

The MRC wishes to commemorate National Marriage Week and continue to praise its value to the community; not just during this designated week but every day. By offering workshops and retreats throughout the year, the MRC hopes to instill the value of it all year long. So take time to enjoy each other's company not just during National Marriage Week, but also all year round. Here are a few simple steps to help jumpstart the process:

- Go on a "date" together once a week. Don't let anything- except a true emergency- interfere
- Phone or e-mail just to ask, "How are you doing?"
- Take a marriage strengthening workshop together
- Cuddle everyday

To find out more about the various workshops, retreats and support groups that are offered by the Marriage Resource Center, a not-for-profit organization dedicated to improving the quality of marriage and family relationships in Wayne County, check out its website at www.mimarrriage.org.
